Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

Although making it so that rural areas can have telephones is a very good cause, my parents are in debt, and I am working as hard as I can to make money and all I can do with it is buy minutes. If I buy minutes, I have no money left! I can't work any extra to make more money as I have school, family and house duties, and a strict bedtime. Please don't make so that I have to lose my cell phone. Thank You for your concern,

Sincerely,
